June 28, 2023

Dear Mr. Cañón Campos,

Thank you very much for the commitment of FISEVI to the European Experts Centres Program for the Treatment of Severe Spasticity and Pain and for giving us the dates of September 15 and 16, 2023 when Dr. Peña and you will be organizing the training session 'Treatment of Severe Spasticity, Chronic & Cancer Pain with Targeted Drug Delivery therapy, fundamental training program for implanting physicians' in Sevilla, Spain.

Attached you will find the agenda of the training. As you can see, we have proposed assignments to the Faculty based on their area of expertise. Therefore, we would like to invite Dr. Isaac Peña to be the Course Director and prepare lectures and support the practical workshop on the subjects as mentioned in the agenda. The language of the speaker assignment will be English.

FISEVI appoints Dr. Isaac Peña to perform these services on its behalf.

On Friday September 15, the training will take place in the hospital and on Saturday September 16, the workshop will be in the anatomy lab. This will be a "hands on" session with embalmed bodies to enable participants to learn and practice the implant techniques. This means that we will split the audience into small groups and each group will rotate through the 3 different work stations. Each table will have all materials needed for the procedures being demonstrated at that site. The maximum duration of these sessions is 4,5 hours, during this time each participant should have a chance to experience all techniques.

Following is additional practical information concerning the training:

1. The audience will be mostly physicians who will all be very interested in starting to use the therapy Dr. Peña will discuss with them. It is estimated that about 20 participants will attend the course.
2. We do expect academic lectures, but also a spontaneous communication of Dr. Peña's experience, appropriate to meet the course objectives. The aim of the course, and this is the challenge, is to give essential and useful information on current treatment modalities. Dr. Peña would not have to strive for a maximum of information, but for a maximum of clarity. We encourage the Course Director and Faculty members to invite questions and discussion from the participants.
3. ECMT offers a Course Director fee of Euro 3000 to FISEVI. FISEVI acknowledges and agrees that the amounts received under this Agreement are gross of any taxes, fees and levies of any nature whatsoever, imposed by any authority with jurisdiction over any amounts received by FISEVI under this Agreement. FISEVI will be solely responsible for the payment of any and all such taxes, fees and levies.

4. In order for ECMT to reimburse additional expenses, FISEVI must submit original receipts along with an expense report, which is enclosed. This expense report requires IBAN (International Bank Account Number) in the country where the Course Director works and lives and BIC or SWIFT code of the bank. Honorarium will be paid by bank transfer within 60 days following the course.

Additional training expenses such as hospital catering, rental of meeting room and audiovisual equipment and the use of the anatomy lab will be charged to and paid directly by ECMT after receipt of quotations that have been approved by ECMT prior to the event. ECMT should receive original invoices from the institution addressed to ECMT in Belgium.

ECMT is privileged to have FISEVI on the Faculty of Experts for this educational program and is looking forward to the participation of Dr. Peña.

Sincerely yours,
